OPENING THE TROUT SEASON.

Blackford's Fulton Market Exhibit Will Fire the Anglers.

The trout season is here again, and in ac cordance with his time-honored custom Fish Commissioner Eugene G. Blackford has set apart the northeast corner of Fusion Market for his exhibition of the speckied beauties. This part of the market was an interesting place this morning. It was testefully deco rated with palms and evergreens and flowers. The trout were arranged on marule slabs, and exhibited in groups, each bearing a tag teiting the name of the exhibitor and the teiting the name of the exhibitor and the waters from which the trout were taken. The live front swam in large marble tanks or in upright aquariums.

Among the rems in the collection from the New York state Hatcheries at Caledonia were a twelve-pound salmon trout, three rainbow or California trout weigning three pounds each, and three brown or German trout each weighing torse pounds.

each, and three brown or German trout each weighing three pounds.

Other exhibitors were the State Hatcheries at Coid Spring, L. L. P. C. Hewitt, Ringwood, N. J.; the Tursed Club, Orange, N. J.; the Old Colony Treat Ponds, Plymouth, Mass.; A. C. Rockow, Elmont, L. L., and the Wildwood Trout Farm. Wildwood. Conn.

The trout range in weight from six to the pound to the monater of twelve pounds.

The figures at which these insh can be bought are: Canadian trout, 30 to 80 cents per pound; Long list and trout, 31 a pound and live front, 150 a pound.

The exhibition will be at its height tomorrow and will close Thursday.

SUGAR CHEAP, BUT TIED UP.

Wholesale Grocers Complain Against the Customs Authorities.

The new Tariff law which goes into effect to-day caused considerable agitation among wholesale grocers this morning. Mr. Merrall, of Acker, Merrall & Condit said: 'Sugar has gone down two cents on account of the new law, but the great difficulty now with us is to obtain a supply, "We have been obliged to borrow sugar from right and left this morning, and all on account of the United States Customs authorities. There is sufficient sugar in bond, but we e annot get it out, as the Government has no cierks enough to expedite the bu-liness.

'The fact is the Cus'oms authorities do not understand the requirements of the business interests of New York. On the first of March they called for thirly temporary cierks to get this august ready for delivery on the first of April, whereas they required hundreds of temporary cierks to properly do the business. "The consequence is the sugar is sted up in the Castom. House this morning when business men urgently need it and cannot get it."
